Why “Darbaar”

Before a word was spoken in the emperor’s court, the room had already spoken.

The darbaar was where the empire happened — petitions heard, justice dispensed, alliances sealed. And nothing in that hall was left to chance. Attar of rose. Sandalwood and oud rising from silver censers. Incense marking the hour of audience.

No darbaar was ever left to smell of nothing. Scent announced the court before the court spoke — and long after a decree was forgotten, the air of the hall was not.

Every space where decisions are made is a darbaar.

A hotel lobby deciding whether a guest returns. A showroom deciding whether a buyer signs. A clinic deciding whether a patient feels safe. A workplace deciding how people feel about Monday.

tsar means emperor. Darbaar is his court. We scent the rooms where decisions are made.

Why spaces invest in scent

Smell is the only sense wired directly to memory and emotion — the olfactory bulb connects straight to the amygdala and hippocampus, with no rational filter in between.

What it changes for the business

Recall — people remember what they smell far longer than what they see or hear; a scented space is a remembered space.

Dwell & spend — ambient scent studies consistently link congruent fragrance to longer dwell time and higher purchase intent.

Perceived quality — scented environments are rated cleaner, more premium, and more trustworthy than identical unscented ones.

Brand identity — a proprietary scent becomes an asset no competitor can copy, carried home in memory.

Scentscaping, not scenting

Anyone can put a diffuser in a lobby. A scentscaping studio composes an entire olfactory landscape — a fragrance narrative that moves with the guest from the driveway to the farewell.

Nothing about it is arbitrary — every space is scented through a zoning system, tuned to your brand.

01

Discover

We walk the property and study your brand, guests, and airflow.

02

Compose

Perfumers translate the brief — with live trials on-site.

03

Zone

Fragrance, intensity, and schedule mapped for every zone.

04

Calibrate

Tuned to real footfall and seasons; audited every visit.

Perceptible, never overpowering — the mark of a composed space.

One space. Many rooms. One story.

Arrival · Lobby

SIGNATURE LUXE · OUD-AMBER

A bold first impression at peak intensity.

Event · Banquet

WARM AMBER ACCORD

Rich but balanced for large crowds.

VIP · Suites

WHITE FLORAL MUSK

Intimate and soft — luxury felt, not announced.

Field operations

The visit checklist — followed on every visit, no exceptions.

Machine tracking

Every unit carries a unique Machine ID (e.g. BLM-E-001). A master register tracks zone, service dates, oil history, and replacements — with dedicated spare inventory per property.

On-site conduct

Branded uniform, service areas, off-peak hours. No guest interaction, one designated contact — and settings can never be changed by venue staff.

Partnership models

MODEL A

Subscription

End-to-end scenting on a fixed monthly retainer — equipment, oil, installation, service, and reporting all included.

Plan 1 • Standard

Choose from tsar's curated library of pre-developed compositions, matched to your space and brand.

Plan 2 • Custom

A bespoke fragrance built for your brand alone — with priority support and a dedicated service manager.

MODEL B

Oil supply

You own or procure the diffusers independently; tsar manages your monthly fragrance oil requirement.

Consistent supply, quality compositions, and technical support to keep the ambient experience exactly where it should be.

MODEL C

Signature Scent Programme

Commission a proprietary fragrance your brand owns outright — your olfactory logo.

Extend it beyond the diffuser: candles, room sprays, linen mists, and guest gifting — so your space follows your customer home.

Start with a 30-day pilot

Week 1

Walk & brief

Site visit, zone mapping, and fragrance direction agreed with your team.

Week 2

Install & launch

Diffusers deployed in your highest-impact zones, pre-configured and locked.

Weeks 3–4

Calibrate

Intensity tuned against real footfall; smell audits on every visit.

Day 30

Review & scale

Pilot report reviewed together — continue, or expand across zones and properties.

COMMERCIAL STRUCTURE

Fixed monthly retainer — no variable charges, no separate billing for oil, maintenance, or replacements.

Machines owned by tsar — zero capital expense on your books.

24-hour replacement SLA and a 15-day service cycle, in writing.

Scale anytime — add zones, properties, or units as you grow.

Pricing is sized to your property during the site walk — most pilots begin within two weeks of first contact.

“Our lobby is the first thing guests notice now, and not in a way they can put their finger on. Wedding clients keep asking what the fragrance is. It has become part of how the property feels.”

GM · BEL-LA-MONDE CHATTARPUR

“We run back-to-back events and the scent never drops off between them. The team just handles it in the background. For a banquet business that consistency is worth a lot.”
